

CASE 493v : Work-Based Learning

Cooperative Education is an academic course awarding college credits to students who participate in a field experience that is related to their major or career goals. See Special Curricula section for details.

Prerequisites

Students must be upper division program majors, or consent.